Dear Mr. McClain,

You contacted the Hotline last week to request to view a copy of an ASTM standard, and staff may have responded to you that the standard is not available for viewing. I have since been informed that ASTM standards and other standards that are incorporated in CPSC standards are in fact available for inspection without charge at CPSC Headquarters in Bethesda, Maryland. If you wish to view any of these standards, please contact Alberta Mills, copied on this e-mail, and the Office of the Secretary will make arrangements for you to inspect the standard(s) free of charge.

Sincerely,

Keysha L. Walker
